

A Manifest Detection of the Most Vyle and Detestable Use of Dice Play (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from A Manifest Detection of the Most Vyle and Detestable Use of Dice Play Only two copies of the following Tract are known to exist. One of these was purchased by the late Mr. Heber, at Nassaus sale, for 7: 17: 6, and that collector, in a note on the fly-leaf, says, - The present copy formerly belonged to Topham Beauclerk, (Cat. Lon. 1781, n. 4137), and I never saw or heard of another. It formed one of eight very curious old tracts bound together in one volume, a manuscript list of which, in an ancient, perhaps contemporary, hand, was inscribed on the back of the title page of the first. From this authority, it appears that Gilbert Walker was the author of the present treatise. Lowndes mentions another edition, printed by Richard Tottyl, 1532, 16mo. The tract seemed worthy of re-publication, as containing a remarkably vivid description of the tricks in vogue amongst the gamesters of the sixteenth century. It has, also, many curious allusions to the manners and customs of the period, and several remarkable phrases I do not recollect to have met with elsewhere.
