Excerpt from Mormonism a Serio Poem Comic Poem
Theres a people whose baseness Christianity paints. That are known both as Mormons and Latter Day Saints, Who were led by the Fates, in their trouble, to make Their terrestrial home beside Utahs great lake, Where some years ago, to avoid persecution, They moved their remarkably queer institution. All consider their choice both the wisest and best, In selecting, for home, the Queen Vale of the West, For, though their near neighbors were very terrific, They soon proved themselves so extremely prolific That their numbers outnumbered the whole savage host, And who dared to oppose them soon gave up the ghost, (This phrase I have used in its scriptural sense, Though to scriptural learning I make no pretense.) First, eager supporters of zealous Joe Smith, Who made no distinction twixt history and myth: About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
